PRINCIPAL'S ARTICLE FOR SPRING NEWSLETTER 2023

Welcome to our first newsletter of 2023 and the Spring Edition

CECOS continues to grow and prosper like the spring bulbs, both in terms of our further and higher education offer. It signals that time of year when many of our students prepare to put their knowledge and learning to the test in exams season. We wish all of our students the very best, and hope that they achieve the academic success they deserve. Whatever their own personal outcome, their learning journey doesn't end after exams. Some of them will be progressing on to the next level of their course, some may be progressing to the workplace and many will be stepping up to University degree courses with us. Whatever their next step may be, we can be proud of all their hard work which enables them to achieve their long-term goals.

We have continuing success both in North Tyne and West Yorkshire with a wide variety of short course provision, with student achievement rates currently in the high 90s. We are really excited at the prospect of opening and launching our new Bradford Campus in May, which will provide an exciting choice of new courses for the local community.

We now have record student numbers on all of our higher education programmes including the Higher National Diploma, Diploma in Education and Staffordshire University degree programmes.

We are delighted that our first cohort of MBA students are just about to embark on their dissertation, the final element of the qualification and offer congratulations to all of them. We look forward to finding out what employment doors their new qualification opens.

Supporting our students to progress into the workplace and to higher responsibility roles, is a priority for the College as it allow us to measure our true impact.

We now have some 2,600 higher education learners, and are very proud of the continuing high standards of achievement, with most of our degree top-up learners getting first class honours degrees or upper second class. This, coupled with our 95% in the 2022 National Student Survey, demonstrates the excellent learning and teaching at CECOS College, both on the London and Birmingham campuses. This is a real testament to all the hard work of our students and staff.

We had our second Board Meeting in February, which went extremely well. The governors felt well informed and commended all of our staffs' efforts to secure the high achievement rates, both in FE and HE.

Finally, a massive thank you to all the highly committed and professional staff at the College and our brilliant Student Council.

Here's to a healthy and prosperous 2023 to all!

We are delighted that you have chosen to pursue your education with us here at CECOS and we are committed to supporting you in achieving your academic and personal goals. For those of you continuing your studies, I hope that you are enjoying your course and are looking forward to the next semester.

Our job as Governors is to ensure that CECOS delivers the highest standards of teaching and learning and to scrutinise the work of the CECOS Senior Management Team. We would be happy to answer any questions that you may have and would be delighted to put forward any suggestions to the Senior Management Team on your behalf.

Best wishes,

Paul Jones

PAUL JONES
CHAIR OF GOVERNORS

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS BLOG - RAKESH SONIGRA

Since 2018 we have expanded the College, from 4 rooms in South Woodford to 17 Rooms in Edmonton Green, 9 rooms in Birmingham and our Bradford campus due to open in September 2023. None of this would have been possible without the dedication and hard work for our staff members and of course, our students. I thank you all.

Our students play a large part in our development and expansion. We have a successful Student Council, which has been a crucial means for quick dissemination of information and for providing immediate feedback on events which occur in the classes and across the College. Thank you to all our student Council representatives for making this possible and being an effective channel for sharing information.

Along the way, I do not want to lose sight of the importance of your learning journey and experiences during your time at CECOS. This is different for each of you, but we would like to ensure a safe and pleasant learning environment for all. This is not something the College can provide without the cooperation of our students.

We have developed and put in place a number of policies to help maintain a level of order and safety. I would just like to recap these measures and explain their importance.

Arriving on time

We have condensed the teaching times as much as possible to ensure that you can reap the benefits of being a full time students and, balance your study and outside commitments. A prompt start to classes means we keep within Funding College guidelines whilst also allowing time for discussions and for a recap at the end of each session. This could make the difference between a pass or higher grade in your assignments.

Wearing you ID Card

Due to the location of our campuses, in some cases it has been easy for people to enter who are not registered with us. Both the CECOS and University lanyards are bright and easily noticeable, so that the College can ensure that only staff and students who belong on campus are making use of our facilities. Staff will challenge anyone without a visible ID card.

You can also expect staff to have a burgundy lanyard whilst on campus.

Don't let people that you do not recognise tailgate you onto campus during in the evening or weekend hours. This risks your safety and that of your fellow students.

Informing Reception

We all have emergencies to deal with from time to time, and we appreciate that a lot of you are parents or have caring responsibilities. We do not want to make uninformed decisions regarding students who leave early, so let the reception know so that it can be noted. If it is on a regular basis, a meeting can be set up with Student Support staff to discuss how the timetable can be changed to allow you to attend full sessions.

Communicate

If you are facing any difficulties, please let us know.

You can have a confidential conversation with Student Support staff or contact me. We would like you to continue and complete your studies once you have started, so by speaking to us about anything which is going to effect your attendance or engagement, we can try to help. This could be with a modified timetable or break in studies.

PARTNERSHIP NEWS AND CAMPUS DEVELOPMENTS

Team Birmingham

A big shout out to Team Birmingham for going beyond the call of duty when CECOS College's senior leadership team paid a visit.

New College Swindon Visit

A big thank you to our partners New College Swindon for visiting our Birmingham and London campuses. It was great to see the student focus groups in full force with Lindsey Stewart and Julia Hoskins leading the way with the NCS focus group.

Campus Developments Bradford Campus

8 Currer Street, Bradford, BD15BA

Construction will shortly be completed on our new Bradford campus. The 3-storey building is conveniently located in Bradford city centre, and readily accessible. This site includes 5 learning areas, which are a combination of classrooms and IT suites.

Work will commence in the next month and we hope to start delivering courses from mid-2023 onwards.

Stepney Green

Raine House, 2-12 Beaumont Grove & 1, 2 and 3 Louisa Street, Stepney, London E1 4NQ

We have witnessed a significant growth in demand for our provision in London. The opening of a second campus in the Stepney Green will allow us to meet the increased demand. Our Stepney Green campus will consist of two closely situated buildings which will also have 5 learning areas, including a combination of classrooms and IT suites.

Work on the campus is scheduled to be completed in July 2023 and we hope to commence delivery of programmes on site from September 2023.

Wellbeing Areas

Staff and student welfare is a prime consideration at CECOS College. We are therefore proud to confirm that we offer refreshment/kitchen areas on all of our campuses, together with a breakout room and a non-denominational prayer room. Campus sites all have library /resource centre facilities with extended opening hours to fit in with the work and family commitments of our students.

Accessibility

Both new campus locations in Bradford and Stepney Green have been specifically chosen based upon their proximity to good transport links and customer footfall. Inclusivity is a paramount part of the ethos of our organisation, and our campuses are strategically located within the communities that we serve. Our campuses are also readily accessible to individuals with mobility issues and other disabilities.

We can't wait to see you at one of our new campuses in the near future.

HE UPDATES -BMSF/BMS/HNs

Happy Spring Greetings to everyone.

As the spring begins, the flowers bloom as do our students and staff. We are happy to announce that after the start of the new term and the induction of our new students who joined us in January, all students continue to be successfully supported with high quality teaching. To promote the development of their knowledge and skills, staff take trouble to embed additional elements including practical learning, interactive team building activities and group work which supports the growth of their knowledge and understanding.

Our dedicated staff and students at CECOS achieve outstanding success and achievement rates. With all the new intakes and the budding new faculties, the CECOS family is growing rapidly. We believe that the reason for this lies with the excellence of the teaching and student engagement, which goes beyond book learning, though encouraging each student to pursue their dreams. We have incorporated various features to make the learning interesting and to promote student engagement, including:

- Innovative Design

The courses are designed to be interdisciplinary and integrate multiple subjects. Modules such as social media marketing are combined with the elements of marketing, psychology and communication. Rather than just reading the literature, we encourage students to apply their learning in their projects and course work which helps better prepare them to function effectively in the business world.

- Introduction of new Software Programmes

We have introduced new software programmes such as Simventure, a business simulation software that allows students to run their own virtual business and make real-time decisions. We have also provided the students with access to new learning platforms like Menti Meter and Kahoot, which are interactive and engaging tools that make learning more fun and effective.

- Developing partnerships with industry leaders

We offer workshops and seminars for students to gain insight into the latest trends and best practices in their field.

- Career Mentorship Programme

We organise a mentorship programme that pairs students with successful professionals in their field, giving them valuable advice and guidance as they navigate their careers.

- Networking and Job Fair

To enable the students to work in their field of their interest, we are hosting networking events and job fairs to connect students with potential employers and help them find job opportunities after graduation.

- Easily accessible courses and resources

We are offering online courses and programmes to make education more accessible and flexible for students who may have other commitments. We are also providing resources for students to start their own businesses, such as access to funding, mentorship, and workspace.

- Promoting placements and internship opportunities

We have new interns joining our team from various universities including the University of Greenwich and the University of East London. It has been a great pleasure employing young talent in lecturing, and within the academic teams to support them in building their careers.

We are looking forward to more exciting ventures and updates in this new calendar year.

UPDATE FROM EDUCATION AND TRAINING

On behalf of the CECOS College London and Department of Education and Training (DET), we would like to congratulate our first batch of graduates with the new awarding body. We would also like to express our appreciation all the students who have progressed to their next semester. In addition, we would like to convey a heartfelt welcome to all our new students, in whom we see the potential to become dedicated teaching professionals in the near future.

In this issue of our newsletter, we would focus on our capacity building within the programme and our engagement and support services for our students.

To provide the support to our students, we are keeping our team agile and focusing on expansion with more qualified and experienced staff across the locations. Alongside this, we are also focusing on our alumni network, building strategies to improve our services and support for students progressing in to employment. Our team has continued to grow by the valuable addition of new, dedicated, and qualified lecturers, across all locations.

In last few months, CECOS College London DET team has been very busy, working on all aspects of internal quality assurance for the certification process of our old cohort and registration of our new cohort. We have improved our attendance procedures using our online registration system on Academia.

We have also had several External Quality Visits in the last few weeks. The DET team is very pleased to announce that we have received no action points from any of the successful visits thanks to the excellent support and co-operation from all our students.

We take pride in our beloved team member, Mr. Ali Gohar, who was invited by His Majesty's office to attend the Commonwealth Day Service in Westminster Abbey on 13th March. His Majesty and other members of Royal Family graced the occasion along with other commonwealth dignitaries. Ali is currently pursuing his Ph.D. in Education at University College London. Mr Ali continues his endeavors with number of peer reviewed publications in different research journals which have been very well received. Many congratulations to you Mr Ali, keep us making proud!

Update from BSc (Hons) Health and Social Care

In partnership with Staffordshire University, we rolled out the BSc (Hons) Health and Social Care programme in September 2022. The students are now in their second semester and we are very proud of this cohort of students. They are always ready to comply to all our academic requests and have demonstrated their academic skills through the quality of their work. At the end of the first semester, the University voiced its appreciation of both the high quality of the students' work as well as our lecturers' assessment feedback style. Focusing on team building and career development, we have encouraged the administrative and support learners to undertake a range of training provided by the awarding bodies.

As part of education and training provision, we believe that "The world is a book and those who do not travel read only one page." (St. Augustine). Hence, we arrange regular term time trips for our students outside their study hours. We took the students to the Natural History Museum during the last semester, and students thoroughly enjoyed the trip and look forward to similar trips each term.

We are committed to providing the best possible service to our students. The list of actions demonstrates that we actively listen to the views of our students.

FE SNAPSHOT

As we enter springtime we can reflect on a very busy period within FE in both the North of Tyne and West Yorkshire regions. From cohorts successfully making the grade to welcoming new students and classes into the College in 2023; it's been a time of both achievement and renewal.

So far this academic year in West Yorkshire alone, we have supported 316 learners to undertake an accumulative 497 courses. Around 75% of our learners are resident in some of the most disadvantaged wards of this region. We remain very proud of the impact our team is having across the diverse communities within both the North Tyne and West Yorkshire areas.

North East Learner of the Month Robert Bari

Robert first joined CECOS College in September 2022, when he enrolled onto an ESOL Speaking and Listening course in Newcastle Upon Tyne. Robert has already progressed onto the next level of his studies with CECOS. Robert is so committed to improving his English; he chooses to attend additional classes with CECOS to develop his speaking and listening skills.

When Robert first arrived with us, he was a quiet learner who preferred working alone, but, as the weeks passed, he came out of his shell and opened up more. He barely spoke a word to anyone in class to begin with. However, now he is known as "teacher Robert" and helps out a lot during class with translating and working 1-2-1 with other students, alongside the lecturer. He motivates students and likes to give examples to his peers by writing on the whiteboard, telling jokes and stories from his own experiences. Robert is a student who, if anyone, needs any extra support, they can find a willing peer in Robert.

Robert has confirmed that he really enjoys coming to ESOL class and has even started joining in the Functional Skills English course for extra revision! Robert is going the extra mile with his learning and is always a keen learner in class. This is evidenced both through his work and 100% attendance for all classes in Newcastle. His goal for the future is to complete his ESOL and progress onto Functional Skills English and Maths, and to eventually gain a managerial role within the cleaning sector, managing others and motivating them to achieve their goals.

We wish Robert continuing success with his studies and with his future career.

Why we do, what we do

Fareen joined CECOS College as a full time Tutor in the summer of 2022.

She is a passionate advocate of the power of education and the positive impact it can have on the broader community. Below, she briefly speaks about her journey in to teaching and what motivates her to create the best environment for her learners:

I worked with children with special needs for many years allowing me to meet many people from different walks of life. The one thing that really stood out to me was the difference I could make to the local community by utilising my education and experiences. For a long time, I thought about how I could improve the knowledge and skills of others; so I set myself a goal to end up where I am today. My journey to becoming a teacher in adult education has been hard work, involved a lot of dedication but has been massively rewarding.

Here at CECOS College, I meet people from a wide diversity of backgrounds, all having a different story to tell, which makes my job both interesting and worthwhile. When learners progress from the classroom having learnt a new skill, grown in confidence or gained a qualification, I'm left with an immense feeling of pride.

George & The Dragon

The St George's Centre in Leeds was visited by CECOS's own 'Dragon', Principal Mark! Joined by stakeholders from Leeds City Council we enjoyed a roundtable with our successful wellbeing students and heard first-hand about the journey they have been on. Our excellent tutor Karen hosted the event and we wish all the learners well as they progress on to Mental Health awareness.

End of course lunch

Tutor Mariam and Stakeholder Engagement Manager Roxy, facilitated an end of course lunch for our functional skills learners at the Adult Learning Centre in Batley.

Having successfully completed their exams, it was a great opportunity to get together and celebrate thirteen weeks of hard work.

Well done ladies!

Learner Case Study

Learner 'A' commenced a Safeguarding course with CECOS College in West Yorkshire. (Due to her circumstances we have agreed not to disclose her identity).

Below she briefly discusses the positive impact the course has had on her and her family:

The learner was a victim of domestic violence and suffered depression. As a consequence she was reluctant to start the course and then decided she needed to do something for herself and for her community.

I thought about it and then decided I needed to pick myself up. I have a degree in pharmaceutical management but did not pursue a career due to family commitments. I absolutely love coming to class and have learnt so much about Prevent. I feel this is a much needed as part of the community I live in as we feel it's something that is not discussed frequently enough. This course has given me the confidence to speak about what Prevent really is and to support my community and children with my knowledge. I thank the College for such a wonderful course and the tutor for this amazing experience.

Safeguarding at the ASHA Neighbourhood Project

ESOL learners in Leeds took great pleasure in undertaking a safeguarding exercise under the direction of our excellent tutor, Saeedah.

Below are some of the examples of the work they created which they are rightfully very proud of:

STUDENT IN THE SPOTLIGHT (BOGDAN)

Hi everyone, my name is Bogdan Vasilev, and I am your fellow student at CECOS College. Thanks to my teacher for encouraging me to be on the talent spotlight for the spring newsletter. So now, more about me as I answer the questions posed.

Tell us about the greatest obstacle that you have overcome?

I don't think I have encountered any obstacles yet because I'm too young.

What has been the happiest and proudest moment of your life?

My happiest moment was when I started doing magic and I showed all the tricks to my friends and family. The look of surprise on their face said it all! They could not believe it was real, that's magic I guess, ha-ha!

How do you define success?

In my opinion, success is being proud of yourself as a person, setting and pursuing your goals and making them come true.

Can you tell us one such dream/goal you are chasing currently?

At this stage, I'd really like to be open to opportunities and be able to explore different genres of interest. But from the top of my head I'd really like to buy a house.

What will people be surprised to know about you?

I think me being a performer is a big surprise to people in general.

What inspired you to do this course?

I studied business marketing back in Bulgaria so when I had the chance to pursue the same in England I jumped at the chance to do it. I also believe that meeting new people under the same umbrella is a positive thing to happen.

What do you aim to achieve in life?

My ambition in life is to be a successful person, to build a strong family and my parents to be proud of me.

What is a cause you are passionate about?

Maybe my magic tricks, because I enjoy people's reactions to them.

What has been your greatest challenge as part of your studies?

The concept of deadlines were scary to me at first, and I did miss a few. But then the support from the college team made me confident about this, and from then on I have been a good student.

Can you tell us another instance where the college supported you?

The college staff are very understanding of student situations which makes things easier for us to be involved in academics and not be distracted by daily life. Also, I can learn things on the broader horizon from my peers who are from various backgrounds.

What advice do you have for the incoming students?

To come to College open minded and, be confident that the College can impart knowledge and skills needed to achieve your qualification, which can help you build your career.

STAFF IN THE SPOTLIGHT: PRIYA NAIR

HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGER

What is your job role in CECOS College and what is a typical day for you?

I am working as an HR Manager in CECOS College London. My primary responsibilities are to play a critical role in attracting, retaining, and developing a talented workforce that supports the college's mission and goals.

What is the one thing you cannot resist?

Morning food, and lovely food in the company of my family.

Moreover, I am interested in keeping up-to-date with the latest HR trends and best practices, as well as continuously improving my own knowledge and skills.

What is your greatest fear?

My greatest fear in the workplace is disappointing others. I have a strong sense of empathy and always want to ensure the best interests of my supervisors, employees and customers.

Where is your favourite place to be?

I enjoy being in the company of loved ones anywhere, whether in an outdoor setting such as a beach or a mountain, or urban settings like a city. It feels like home with family & friends.

Where is the best place you've travelled to and why?

Of all the places I have travelled, my all-time favourite would be London. I came here back in 2006 & fell in love with one of the most vibrant and diverse cities in the world, with a rich history, culture, and architecture.

It is home to numerous iconic landmarks and attractions, including the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, the British Museum, the London Eye, and Big Ben. It has the famous red double-decker buses and the underground subway system, which allows visitors to explore the city easily. London is a fascinating city that offers something for everyone.

What would you do (for a career) if you weren't doing this?

That's a tricky question. I would have been a Radio Disc-Jockey, Lawyer or a Politician. I love communicating and advocating for the welfare of people.

Any favourite line from a movie?

I am movie freak- My all-time favourites would be:

"Kehte hain agar kisi cheez ko dil se chaaho, to puri qayanat use tumse milane ki koshish mein lag jaati hai..."

Meaning: If you really desire something from your heart, the whole universe will conspire to help you achieve it.

If you could choose anyone, who would you pick as your mentor?

There have been many great mentors throughout history who have guided and inspired others to achieve greatness.

Susan Meisinger - a former CEO of the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) who has mentored many HR professionals and is known for her advocacy for HR as a strategic business partner.

If you could learn to do anything, what would it be?

Speaking multiple languages fluently: Being able to communicate with people from different cultures and countries is an incredibly valuable skill in today's globalized world. This will facilitate my interpersonal communication, business prospects & travels.

What are 3 words you'd use to describe CECOS College?

In my personal opinion, the top three words that can be used to describe CECOS College:

1. Welcoming: CECOS College has a friendly and inclusive community, where students and staff are welcoming to new members and create a supportive environment for learning and growth.
2. Innovative: In the approaches to teaching and learning, incorporating modern technology and creative teaching methods to enhance the educational experience.
3. Dynamic: Constantly adapting to changes in the education landscape and striving to stay at the forefront of academic excellence and innovation.

If you won the lottery, what is the first thing you would do?

Celebrate!! Celebrate!! & Celebrate!!

Moreover, post celebrating I would seek financial advice as winning the lottery can come with significant financial considerations, and it's essential to get advice on how to manage and invest the money to help family, friends and the needy with longevity.

What music is on your iPhone/Android phone?

Bollywood Dance Hits

What chore do you absolutely hate doing?

Cooking can be a time-consuming and challenging multifaceted task involving cleaning, cutting, measuring, baking, and waiting for the food to cook which is extremely time consuming. I prefer to eat instead!

If you could meet anyone, living or dead, who would you meet?

Salman Khan- My childhood crush!

I have seen all his movies on the 1st day of release preferably the 1st show.

Would love to meet him once!
